AUSTIN, TX, October 10, 2008 /24-7PressRelease/ -- HGTV House Hunters films Kenn Renner from Buy Austin.com and his family in search of their very Own "Dream Home". The HGTV special airs next week October 13th 2008, exclusively on HGTV.

Austin, Texas - October 8th 2008 -- On Monday, October 13th, HGTV's number one rated show "House Hunters" will feature one of Austin, Texas' top real estate agents, Kenn Renner, on the "hunt" for his own lake side dream home.

The nationwide cable House Hunters show airs at 10 P.M. Pacific and Eastern and 9 P.M. Central and will showcase estate-sized homes in the pristine Lake Travis area just west of Austin. Sarah Allison, one of the shows producers explained, "We love shooting in Austin - it is just very scenic and friendly as well as incredibly affordable. Our film crews just love Austin and having a show featuring one of Austin Top Realtors searching for his own home really makes for a good storyline."

Kenn Renner (www.BuyAustin.com) is no stranger to national TV - in fact this will be the seventh time he will be on HGTV. "Filming this show was a lot of fun and I learned a lot about producing video. We actually got to do two shows with House Hunters and the other show will air in November. It was an incredible experience, especially the fact that we were able to include our family & friends. Even our golden retriever - "Angel" appeared in many of the scenes."

In regards to the actual shooting of the show Kenn explains, "I was amazed at how thorough and lengthy the filming process was for HGTV. We filmed every single room and each scene was filmed at least two times. Filming just one home took an entire day! Our feet were very tired to say the least."

The homes Kenn and his family toured were priced between $800,000 and $1,200,000. "The homes we toured were just amazing - most of the homes we looked at were over 5000 square feet," he adds.

"I have spent my 25-year career as a real estate agent helping others find their dream home. It was extremely rewarding and a lot of fun to finally be the one hunting for a dream home and to have HGTV to share the experience with our family. We feel so blessed to be now living in the house of our dreams in Austin, Texas."
