Oktoberfest is one of the highlights for brewers every year. Michael McMillan Director of Marketing for St. Peter's Village says, "This is one of my favorite times of year. The weather begins to break and cool off, and breweries of the world begin releasing their yearly Oktoberfest offerings with flavor that mirrors the season, toasted malts, slightly sweet and then smooth. It makes me think of my Great-Grandparents, from Germany, who made a large spread of warm potato salad, braised cabbage, roasted pork and grilled bratwurst. It is a culture of celebration by combining two of my favorite items: good beer and great food."

Along with the numerous offerings of great imported beers, The Inn at St. Peter's Village has developed a wonderful Oktoberfest menu for the day. These items will celebrate the combination of food and wine for the event and brings to St. Peter's a sense of culture and lifestyle, in this quaint, picturesque village that is something right out of the European countryside.

The Inn at St. Peter's Village is located at the gateway to Historic St. Peter's Village, PA. The Inn is open Wednesday through Sunday for dinner; in addition Saturday is open for Lunch and Sunday for Brunch.
