Protect your Home and your Business

Lyla J's Self-Defense & Surveillance Products, a national retailer of the highest quality self-protection products and surveillance equipment, is pleased to announce the grand opening of their new website, www.LylaJSpyCams.com.

GROVE, OK, October 11, 2008 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Crime is on the rise, and with this comes the need for reasonably priced self-defense and property protection products. As the need increases, so has technology, and prices for this equipment has become more affordable. Often, insurers offer discounts to residences and small businesses having alarm or security systems. This site provides not only alarms systems, surveillance systems, cameras, but also hidden cameras and recorders.

"I have personal experiences with home robbery," says Lyla Jeanne, who along with her husband John Painter, own the company. "Once, when leaving on a trip to Baja California (Mexico), I decided last minute to leave my turquoise jewelry at home" she states. "There had been a lot of robbery down there, so I left the jewelry on the kitchen counter. When I returned, my home had been robbed and the only thing that was taken was my turquoise jewelry!"

Lyla recalls another time when she went to her parent's home on her birthday. It was around Christmas time, the tree was decorated, with gifts wrapped and placed under the tree. She had opened her birthday gifts and they were on the dining table. Then she went to dinner with her parents and her two younger brothers. Upon returning home, her father noticed a male kid down the street just hanging around. After entering the home, they realized all the Christmas and birthday gifts had been taken. Her Dad, a Los Angeles Police Department Homicide Detective, was licensed to carry a gun. He pulled the gun and went running down the street. "It was the first time I actually saw Dad pull a gun" Lyla remembers.

As it turned out, the young male down the street was waiting for his accomplice who was in the process of robbing another house. Her father, Lyle, was able to recover their stolen gifts and the two thieves were arrested.

John also has experienced having a home broken into. He was formerly a General Contractor in Houston, Texas with 123 employees. One weekend, he was planning a short trip. He told no one except his foreman. When he returned, his home had been broken into and several items of value stolen. Police investigation proved it was his foreman. Immediately after, John had a security and surveillance system installed.

The couple are both firm believers of home surveillance cameras, hidden cameras and all types of self-defense and home security products. The products offered at their site have been personally tested and are of the highest quality.
