Charles Brossman does it again: Huge Launch Of Turtle Creek Travel Website!

Travel is personal. Whether a world tour or a weekend trip to New York City, having an agent you can trust can make a mediocre trip fantastic.

MONTREAL, QC, CANADA, October 11, 2008 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Turtle Creek Travel was created by Charles Brossman, who, originally from Fort Smith, Arkansas, is a graduate of Cornell University. Booking and managing travel for individuals or companies is where he started his career, and is what he loves to do. Get to know Charles and his team and you will find that your relationship with Turtle Creek Travel becomes personal, the way it used to be, the way it should be.

Charles understands that traveling today can be uncomfortable and challenging, and while many people feel they can book their own travel online, they lose the benefit of additional savings, product knowledge, additional perks and benefits that they would not otherwise get while spending their valuable time on research. Most of all, they no longer have a personal relationship with their own travel agent with the product knowledge to deliver the maximum comfort and safety possible. Charles and Logobee.com (a Canadian design firm based out of Montreal) collaborated on the web design and logo design project. Charles says he had a clear vision as to what he wanted and allowed the design team to realize it. This was not the first venture the two companies had together; earlier this year Charles launched Big And Tall travel - a company which specializes in travel accommodations for people of all shapes and sizes. Charles trusted Logobee.com to create the logo design as well as his corporate identity for this company as well.

Charles is very happy and excited about the launch of the website which he feels conveys a clean and natural look while emphasizing relaxation and a calm travel lifestyle that turtlecreektravel.com seeks to promote.
