BCN Rentals Announces Winter Price Slash for "Apartments for rent in Barcelona"!

Barcelona-Based apartment rental agency announces price cuts for its self catering accommodation for the coming winter period.

BARCELONA, SPAIN, October 12, 2008 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Nowadays, planning and purchasing your own holiday is a lot easier than it used to be, and with the bloom of low cost airlines, booking a cheap flight and then looking for your own accommodation has never been easier. Self catering accommodation has so many benefits over hotel rooms. Renting a self contained apartment has the immediate comforts and benefits of your own living space within the city or resort you are visiting. Barcelona Rentals have capitalised on this idea with their selection of Barcelona apartments.

Central locations on their Barcelona properties mean that they are a favourite with families and groups of friends wanting to experience the sights and attractions that the Catalan Capital has to offer within walking distance to their home away from home. Apartments are fully equipped with everything the traveller will need. Young families can forget about hotel continental breakfasts or eating out in expensive cafes and restaurants, and instead stick to family routines with fully equipped kitchens. Other home comforts on offer include comfortable living rooms with TV, DVD, Satellite television channels and Wi-Fi internet connection, making their Barcelona apartments also an exceptional choice for the business traveller.

BCN Rentals also specialises in group bookings for family vacations or celebrations of friends. They have a selection of apartments all within close proximity of each other and in the same building, meaning the usual headache of reserving several hotel rooms with uncomfortable add-on beds is now not a necessity.

BCN rentals Barcelona apartments are all conveniently located within the heart of the city centre, and close to all the main attractions, shops, restaurants, bars, clubs and nightspots. Detailed information and tailor made recommendations are given to each guest upon check in with a personal greeting from one of the BCN Rentals representatives.

Barcelona apartment rental manager, David Brydon, was happy to announce the coming price cuts for their family-run company, "The credit crunch means that people are more than likely saving for a decent Christmas. We are happy to announce price cuts in our Barcelona apartments for rent, making those all important Christmas shopping trips all the more likely and those business visitors a great excuse to not compromise on comfort and high quality whilst opting for a much cheaper option than their usual cold hotel room. We plan to continue beating prices well into 2009, and our satisfied customers of date are bringing many referrals and booking their next holiday with us again too, which makes all the hard work of our customer care department all worthwhile.

For your holiday in Barcelona apartments for rent, look no further than BCN Rentals.
