New version of Halloween program for iPhone, iPod Touch debuts

An enhanced version of Halloween Experience, easily downloaded and geared for the annual "spooky" celebration, provides additional entertainment and features while the price remains the same --- under $1.

LAS VEGAS, NV, October 15, 2008 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Halloween Experience, a "scary" Halloween-themed program introduced last month for iPhone or iPod Touch users --- which in its first week zoomed to the top 25 percent of programs for the Apple Inc. devices --- now features fresh enhancements that make it more entertaining. The price remains under $1.

Easily downloaded from the iTunes App Store, Halloween Experience raises the functionality of the iPhone and iPod Touch. A preview video of the updated spooky sounds and "hair-raising" action plus full details are found at EnergizeSoftware.com.

For people on the move, the new V2.0 version of Halloween Experience, with haunting background music and sounds plus flying witches, allows users to create their own "virtual pumpkin" by moving 30 facial pieces, up from 15 at the program's introduction. Size and orientation are changed by pinch and rotate gestures. Shaking erases the creation while shaking again recovers the image.

Costing 99 cents, the enhanced program also includes a Halloween version of hangman, now with more than 150 spooky words (up from 100), a new haunted Tower of Hanoi game with 10 levels of play, ability to see the pumpkin creation glow in the dark and optional "auto hide buttons."

Halloween Experience also features a countdown on the number of days to the annual celebration and assorted scary sounds with tilting of the device in different directions.
