

Leadership Tools by La Dominion Acquisitions Ltd for 2013

La Dominion Acquisitions has released Leadership Tools which they hope will assist individuals to develop skills to allow them to become the leaders of the 21st century.

LONDON, ENGLAND, January 24, 2013 /24-7PressRelease/ --La Dominion Acquisitions suggests leadership has experienced many changes within the last century. While in the 1950s the typical boss was barking orders at their subordinates, the 'hang-loose' management style of the 90s wouldn't be efficient enough in order to keep up with the competition.

La Dominion Acquisitions MD says: "We are living in a constantly changing and dynamic business climate; therefore it is important to develop the right mindset and skills in order to identify new opportunities before the competition does. Being the next generation leader does not just mean being the boss of an organisation."

To be a leader in the 21st century Adina Stoleru suggests: "Being a strong role model who has the ability to learn quickly in today's environment and can be creative and innovative is something here at La Dominion Acquisitions we have found to be important. In order to achieve individual as well as business success, a leader needs to be constantly aware of the competition and the changes that are happening in the economy." Management consultant and author of the book 'Your Management Sucks' states in an article on Entrepreneur.com: "Today's successful business leader is decisive, insightful and constantly challenging company conventions to keep ideas flowing." La Dominion Acquisitions reports areas such as productivity, customer services and reducing complaints are all benefits of successful leadership.

Adina Stoleru explains: "Leadership skills are crucial in order to be a successful Manager. Global changes, the financial crisis or new technology are only some of the challenges business leaders face in the 21st century. We at LaDominion Acquisitions set value on constant self-development, networking and mentoring in order to keep up with our competitors. The trend of the next generation leaders will be those who are highly motivated and take initiative to develop new skills and evaluate performance, always try to be one step ahead of the competition and have the ability to execute change and drive others to success."
