

Winston-Salem Cosmetic Dentistry Practice Boosts A Smile's Esthetic Appeal With Veneers

Dr. Denise Perrotta uncovers three ways veneers cover up dental imperfections. Full story below!

WINSTON-SALEM, NC, February 07, 2014 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Are you looking for a change? A change you want to show, but not show? It may sound odd to say it like that, but when it comes to your smile, you want dental work to reveal picture-perfect teeth, without looking like you had work done. If you want to reshape, resize or cover up minor dental imperfections, residents in Winston-Salem, veneers might be the right dental treatment for you!

"A smile makeover can do wonders, even if it's just a tiny adjustment to the color or look. With a long list of treatments for cosmetic dentistry, Winston-Salem residents can boost the esthetic, and possibly function, of their teeth," says Dr. Perrotta.

Veneers: Fill the Gap

Do you have a minor gap that doesn't call for orthodontic interception? The little gaps between your teeth, let veneers bridge the gap.

Veneers: Brighten Your Smile

You may have naturally white teeth that haven't been discolored by outside forces: coffee, berries, wine and tea. However, maybe you have one tooth with an intrinsic stain, meaning it's a stain coming from within the tooth. It's most likely caused by a root canal, which means over-the-counter products won't give you visible results. A veneer can cover up tooth discoloration. If you have intrinsic and extrinsic stains on multiple teeth, your dentist can make the veneer a shade or two whiter than your teeth, so he/she can whiten your natural teeth to match the custom, thin shells.

Veneers: Do Damage Control

A minor chip or worn surface of a tooth can turn into a major flaw. If you don't want a tooth to stick out like a sore thumb, get a uniform look with a veneer application. Only a small amount of enamel needs to be removed before cementing a veneer.

"Your veneers will look custom, and they will feel comfortable. It's something you and others won't notice. The only thing anyone will see is an improvement in the cosmetic appearance of your smile," says Dr. Perrotta.

At Dr. Perrotta's dental practice, she works more with Lumineers (no-prep veneers). Lumineers differ a bit from traditional veneers because these no-prep veneers can be placed in two dental visits. They are also ultra thin and highly translucent, mimicking the natural enamel, and typically, Lumineers don't call for anesthesia or acrylic temporaries because there is less removal of the tooth's enamel.
