GLENDALE, CA, April 10, 2014 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Softline Solutions ranked number one in Los Angeles among the hundreds of companies analyzed by Best SEOs--a research firm that has worked with digital marketing agencies from around the globe since 2002. Best SEOs analyzes and ranks digital marketing agencies based on company history, experience, client acquisition, team members/staff, achievements, new services and overall expertise at assisting enterprises with online marketing and brand presence. Because Best SEOs is constantly researching the latest developments in the online marketing world, their ranking of Softline Solutions as the top SEO company in Los Angeles is high praise indeed.

Set apart from all other SEO agencies in Los Angeles, Softline was the only company to earn a 100% rating in each category examined by the research firm, including off page optimization, on page optimization, keyword analysis, client needs analysis, reporting methods, and customer service. The company's stellar combination of highly-customized optimization methodologies and meticulous attention to client satisfaction has resulted in an astonishing 97 percent customer retention rate.

Softline has served thousands of companies both nationally and internationally, providing each with well-tested online marketing solutions, including search engine optimization (SEO), mobile and social media marketing, pay-per-click (PPC) management, content marketing, local online marketing and website design and development. They provide potential customers with free quotes so they have an understanding of costs going in among other helpful "getting started" tools.
