

AC Video Solutions Partners With PlayBox Technology At NAB 2016 NY Show

Excellence in broadcast automation products, integration and support.

NEW YORK, NY, October 26, 2016 /24-7PressRelease/ -- AC Video Solutions is pleased to announce their collaboration with PlayBox Technology at New York's Javits Convention Center Exhibit Hall, Booth 848, from November 9th to 10th.

"We are thrilled to welcome PlayBox Technology CEO Pavlin Rahnev, and USA Sales Manager Van Duke, to New York for NAB East," said AC Video Solutions Managing Partner, Andrea Cummis. "We will be assisting in showcasing and demonstrating the latest PlayBox suite of products including Neo and CloudAir."

As leaders in complete studio design and integration, AC Video Solutions looks forward to engaging with a large audience eager for quality products and services that will assist with content creation, management, delivery and consumption.

With a client list that includes Channel One News, Telecare TV, Rutgers University, NJPAC, Africa Today TV and Mount Sinai Kravis Children's Hospital, Cummis sees an increasing demand for channel-in-a-box systems that have the ability to ingest and output SD, HD and 4K UHD within a single server. "The PlayBox suite of products not only appeal to national and international broadcasters," continued Cummis, "but to start-up TV channels, webcasters, interactive TV and music channels, film channels, disaster recovery channels and many others as well."
