

"Guardian Angel Murder" is a gripping story of obsession, betrayal, and the lengths a mother will go to shield her child, even as the truth threatens to destroy them both.

Written by Barbara Dolan

Barbara E. Dolan is a journalist and a writer, receiving her first recognition for writing in Fourth Grade, "The Values of a Religious Vocation." As a journalist, she worked for Lerner Newspaper and won recognition both by Lerner News and the National Newspaper Association Honorable Mention for a commentary that ran in the Chicagoland newspapers. She then went on to be the Managing Editor of "Derm World," an international news magazine. As a licensed clinical professional counselor, she wrote children's books for each of her grandchildren, and had short stories published in online literary magazines. This is her first novel.

Designed by Tracey Hudson Countz

Tracey Hudson Countz is an author and illustrator living in southern Mississippi with her husband, Caston, their very spoiled dachshund, Wiggles, and two frisky kitties, Pippin and Poe. For the past fifteen years, she has been designing and illustrating children's books for aspiring authors. In 2019, she wrote and illustrated her first book, "Amelia's Dash," followed by her second, "Miss Sippy, The Church Mouse," in 2023. She is currently working on her first novel, "The Red Chair."

Illustrated by Paul Dolan

Paul Dolan is an illustrator and designer with more than forty years of experience. He has illustrated five children's books, including "The Queen's Tea," by Barbara Dolan, and has worked with a wide range of clients such as the AMA, Baxter Laboratories, Chicago Magazine, the Chicago Tribune, DDB Needham, McDonald's, McGraw-Hill, VSA, Wyville USA, and Your Simple Truth. More of his work can be seen at www.dolandesign.com.

BARBARA DOLAN

THE GUARDIAN ANGEL MURDER

THE GUARDIAN ANGEL MURDER

by BARBARA DOLAN